

Sanford Jeffersonian.

A. A. SPEAR, Editor.
FINDLAY, OHIO.
FRIDAY MORNING, Dec. 25th, 1857.
CIRCULATE THE JEFFERSONIAN.

Every true friend of Republican Principles, who has not yet secured himself to extend the circulation of the Jeffersonian, will be glad to see this notice. It is a call to arms, and we would, if we could, see every man, woman and child, who is a friend of the Republic, armed with a copy of this paper.

Position of the Buchanan Democracy of Ohio.
The Ohio Statesman gives the names of forty-nine Democratic papers, in Ohio, that sustain Douglas. The editor, we have no doubt, made what he believed to be a correct statement, but we know he has erred in regard to some of them. A portion of those on the list have not even committed themselves yet; and very many of them temper their opposition with so many "ifs and ands" that it does not amount to much. While many of the Democratic press, headed by the Statesman, are giving quite decided opposition to this Kansas rascality, some of the leading papers of the party are as decidedly in favor of it. The Dayton Empire in speaking of that portion of the Democracy that favor Douglas, remarks:

"In the pithy words of the New York Herald, they are devouring the dirty crumbs and remnants of the gutter agitation left on the table by Garrison, Abby Kelley, Seward, Greeley & Co."

The above is a specimen of the "whipping in" process. The Coalition Democrat, edited by the noted Dimmock, sustains Buchanan with all its energies, and states that Gen. Burns, the Democratic Member of Congress from that District, will vote for the admission of Kansas, with her present Constitution. The editor gives the people of Kansas the following bit of consolation, strongly spiced with the dominant Buchanan spirit:

"The slavery question has been submitted to the people; and they have refused to accept freedom at the hands of Mr. Buchanan, let them take slavery till they get tired of it!"

"Getting the Facts."
The Buchanan press is beginning to warm up and waken into life. The Hamilton Telegraph remarks:

"President Buchanan was the first choice of Butler county, and of the Third Congressional District, at the Cincinnati Convention. We participated in that preference, and we are proud to say that every act of the President since his inauguration has strengthened and confirmed it. The opposition which he now encounters, inside and outside the Democratic party, reminds us of the onslaught made upon 'Old Hickory' in the days of the United States Bank Panic, and the prompt action of 'Old Buck' in disposing of renegades and boogymen, warrants the belief that he has taken Jackson for his model. He couldn't well find a better one."

"Neither wishing, hoping nor expecting any favors from the President, we rejoice in the free opportunity afforded us of declaring our belief that it is upon the Kansas question, and so believing we mean to defend him to the extent our humble ability—'sink or swim.' We have taken this position after a careful review of the matter, and upon rising from the perusal of the speech of Senator Douglas, which we assume to be the best showing that can be made by the opposition."

The Newark Advocate has taken ground in favor of Buchanan, and pitches into Douglas. The Lancaster Eagle calls Douglas a Republican leader. The Stark County Democrat says:

"A little moderation, in these shrieking Kansas times, might be a fine thing in some Democratic organs."

Some that vacillated for a while are leaning strongly toward the Administration. They may sell themselves, but assuredly they cannot, the people.

Sectionalism Exemplified.
Of the twenty Committees in the United States Senate, the South have the Chairman of fifteen, and a majority of members in fourteen. Such is the grasping policy of the dominating slave driver. How long will freemen tolerate such usurpation? Those who have recently shown a disposition to shake off party shackles, will not let pass unnoticed, this most unjust distribution of political influence. Just think of it! A section embracing but one-third of the free population of the United States, monopolizing three-fourths of the important positions in this one branch of our national Legislature! Many have looked upon the complaint of slavery aggression, as idle talk. A few such exemplifications super-added to the Kansas outrages, will, perhaps, bring them to a realizing sense of the true position of things.

Attempted Assassination.
Judge Fitch of Toledo, was seriously if not dangerously wounded, by an individual named Miller, who is said to be subject to fits of insanity. The Judge had just arrived at his dwelling from the Court room, when Miller entered, and demanded the payment of a sum, which he claimed was due him; upon the Judge's refusing to pay it, Miller drew a pistol and shot him. The ball entered the head, removing two teeth and a portion of the jaw, and passing through the palate lodged in the neck, in such a position that it was impossible to remove it. The Judge was still lying at his home.

Discussion in Congress.
Bigler, of Pennsylvania, attacked Douglas again in the Senate, on Monday last, and endeavored to ride over him rough shod, but the latter was wide awake for him, and very promptly took his charges. Bigler is evidently fatigued, in his course toward Douglas, by the Administration, although he dares not admit it. The two divisions of the party, now in mortal hostility to each other, thus were the Republicans and Democrats previously. It is very evident that the days of the pro-slavery Democracy are numbered. They complete dissolution is unavoidable. All that prevented them from sharing the fate of the Whig party in this, was their election to the Senate. But the game is now broken. The liberal and independent spirit of the party are determined to stand up for themselves, and for the Republic, and are no longer to be misled by the pro-slavery politicians.

Position of the Buchanan Democracy of Ohio.

The Ohio Statesman gives the names of forty-nine Democratic papers, in Ohio, that sustain Douglas. The editor, we have no doubt, made what he believed to be a correct statement, but we know he has erred in regard to some of them. A portion of those on the list have not even committed themselves yet; and very many of them temper their opposition with so many "ifs and ands" that it does not amount to much. While many of the Democratic press, headed by the Statesman, are giving quite decided opposition to this Kansas rascality, some of the leading papers of the party are as decidedly in favor of it. The Dayton Empire in speaking of that portion of the Democracy that favor Douglas, remarks:

"In the pithy words of the New York Herald, they are devouring the dirty crumbs and remnants of the gutter agitation left on the table by Garrison, Abby Kelley, Seward, Greeley & Co."

The above is a specimen of the "whipping in" process. The Coalition Democrat, edited by the noted Dimmock, sustains Buchanan with all its energies, and states that Gen. Burns, the Democratic Member of Congress from that District, will vote for the admission of Kansas, with her present Constitution. The editor gives the people of Kansas the following bit of consolation, strongly spiced with the dominant Buchanan spirit:

"The slavery question has been submitted to the people; and they have refused to accept freedom at the hands of Mr. Buchanan, let them take slavery till they get tired of it!"

"Getting the Facts."
The Buchanan press is beginning to warm up and waken into life. The Hamilton Telegraph remarks:

"President Buchanan was the first choice of Butler county, and of the Third Congressional District, at the Cincinnati Convention. We participated in that preference, and we are proud to say that every act of the President since his inauguration has strengthened and confirmed it. The opposition which he now encounters, inside and outside the Democratic party, reminds us of the onslaught made upon 'Old Hickory' in the days of the United States Bank Panic, and the prompt action of 'Old Buck' in disposing of renegades and boogymen, warrants the belief that he has taken Jackson for his model. He couldn't well find a better one."

"Neither wishing, hoping nor expecting any favors from the President, we rejoice in the free opportunity afforded us of declaring our belief that it is upon the Kansas question, and so believing we mean to defend him to the extent our humble ability—'sink or swim.' We have taken this position after a careful review of the matter, and upon rising from the perusal of the speech of Senator Douglas, which we assume to be the best showing that can be made by the opposition."

The Newark Advocate has taken ground in favor of Buchanan, and pitches into Douglas. The Lancaster Eagle calls Douglas a Republican leader. The Stark County Democrat says:

"A little moderation, in these shrieking Kansas times, might be a fine thing in some Democratic organs."

Some that vacillated for a while are leaning strongly toward the Administration. They may sell themselves, but assuredly they cannot, the people.

Sectionalism Exemplified.
Of the twenty Committees in the United States Senate, the South have the Chairman of fifteen, and a majority of members in fourteen. Such is the grasping policy of the dominating slave driver. How long will freemen tolerate such usurpation? Those who have recently shown a disposition to shake off party shackles, will not let pass unnoticed, this most unjust distribution of political influence. Just think of it! A section embracing but one-third of the free population of the United States, monopolizing three-fourths of the important positions in this one branch of our national Legislature! Many have looked upon the complaint of slavery aggression, as idle talk. A few such exemplifications super-added to the Kansas outrages, will, perhaps, bring them to a realizing sense of the true position of things.

Attempted Assassination.
Judge Fitch of Toledo, was seriously if not dangerously wounded, by an individual named Miller, who is said to be subject to fits of insanity. The Judge had just arrived at his dwelling from the Court room, when Miller entered, and demanded the payment of a sum, which he claimed was due him; upon the Judge's refusing to pay it, Miller drew a pistol and shot him. The ball entered the head, removing two teeth and a portion of the jaw, and passing through the palate lodged in the neck, in such a position that it was impossible to remove it. The Judge was still lying at his home.

Discussion in Congress.
Bigler, of Pennsylvania, attacked Douglas again in the Senate, on Monday last, and endeavored to ride over him rough shod, but the latter was wide awake for him, and very promptly took his charges. Bigler is evidently fatigued, in his course toward Douglas, by the Administration, although he dares not admit it. The two divisions of the party, now in mortal hostility to each other, thus were the Republicans and Democrats previously. It is very evident that the days of the pro-slavery Democracy are numbered. They complete dissolution is unavoidable. All that prevented them from sharing the fate of the Whig party in this, was their election to the Senate. But the game is now broken. The liberal and independent spirit of the party are determined to stand up for themselves, and for the Republic, and are no longer to be misled by the pro-slavery politicians.

Opposition to Buchanan by His Former Friends.

The Urban Democrat remarks: "At the present moment he (Buchanan) has lost the confidence of his very ablest friends—to those to whom he has been most highly indebted—not only in the North but portions of the South, and his administration bids fair to be a stormy and not over honorable one—so far as the slavery question shall enter into its doings."

The National Democrat, of Buchanan county, O., weeps over Buchanan's folly thus:

"Ominous clouds, thick and dark rising from either direction of the political horizon, are mustering for another political tempest. The nobility of State is already driven within half a cable's length of a lee shore of rock. Not all the wisdom and sagacity acknowledged to belong to the great statesman at her helm, seem adequate to steer clear the 'dead point of danger.' James Buchanan may be President, but all eyes will be turned to him. Democrats may feel some solicitude for his safe exodus from the difficulties that embarrass his administration; but they feel a deeper solicitude for the success and preservation, in all their purity, of Democratic principles."

And we have the following additional item:

"The Young Men's Democratic Association of Detroit, having endorsed Douglas and censured Buchanan, called a mass meeting of Democrats of that city on Monday night, to sustain them. The meeting was large and the excitement tremendous. Resolutions censuring Buchanan and sustaining Douglas, were offered, but their opponents raised a row to prevent their passage, and finally turned off the gas, but the resolutions were passed in the dark."

The Council of the Tammany Sachems held a meeting in New York on Wednesday, and refused to permit a wing of Buchanan's faithful followers, who desired to endorse his Kansas policy, to hold a meeting in Tammany Hall. Three of the President's office holders, strange to say, were among those who thus indicated their disapproval of the Kansas policy of the Administration. This movement is quite significant.

New York Banks.
The New York Banks have all resumed specie payment. This circumstance is looked upon as favorable to the restoration of business to its former condition. How far it will accomplish this, remains to be tested. It will take a good deal of money—even hard money, to restore the lost confidence, which is so essential in successful business operations. These money panics are usually not the creatures of a day. Under the most favorable circumstances, it takes business men some time to find their bearings.

Governor Walker.
Gov. Walker has resigned, and has issued a letter in defense of his course in Kansas, in urging the submission of the Constitution to the people. He gives Buchanan some pretty hard hits, and exposes the conduct of the Federal officers in Kansas, in their efforts to defeat the purpose of the people. In fact his exposition of matters, is in entire keeping with that of all his predecessors in office, and goes to confirm the most that has been said about Kansas outrages.

Senator Pugh.
Senator Pugh, from this State, has acted a very cowardly part, in keeping "naum," while other Members of the Senate are showing their hands. His excuse, given, that he was "waiting for facts," has become proverbial as applied to weak backed politicians. Even his own constituents despise him, and his own party join with their opponents in "twitting" him about his "facts." His sympathies evidently go with Buchanan, from whom he is expecting some favor. Such a time server has no business in the Senate, as a Representative of the freemen of Ohio.

Congressional.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.
SENATE.—Mr. Crittenden submitted resolutions to the following effect: That in consideration of the financial condition of the country and the embarrassment of the Treasury, the rates of the duty established by the tariff of March last, ought to be materially increased, and also in favor of a substitution of the system of home valuation on imported goods.

The Senate then renewed the consideration of the Treasury note full. Mr. Wilson said that the closing hours of the 24th Congress were devoted to efforts to deplete the Treasury, and they were now, at the commencement of the 25th, trying to fill the treasury, now empty. He called attention to some facts connected with the expenditures of the government.

He thought Congress should revise the tariff so as to restore the duties on cotton and woolen goods to where they were by the tariff of 1846. That would increase the revenues of the country something like two millions of dollars, and thus afford some relief.

He would vote for the issue of ten millions of treasury notes rather than loans for a long period. There was no necessity for resorting to a loan; but at this time, when threatened with a deficiency in the revenue, it is important that the public credit should be maintained.

Mr. Bishop approved the bill upon the ground that the notes would go into circulation and be used as a medium for exchange. It would meet the necessities of the Government, and benefit the country, which is not in a prosperous condition, as Mr. Banks described. It may be true that there is more money than ever in the country, but if it was available, Mr. Bishop would be glad if the gentleman from Massachusetts would point out where it may be found.

Mr. Davis, of Maryland, opposed the bill, because there was no period fixed when the notes were to be redeemed for redemption, and which would, therefore, continue in circulation as irredeemable currency. The Committee here arose and the House adjourned.

News Matters.
ARRIVAL OF THE ATLANTIC.
SANDY HOOK, Dec. 21.
The new Collins mail steamship Atlantic, with mails from Liverpool to the morning of the 9th inst., passed here this morning.

The steamship Arabia's arrival reached Liverpool on the 9th inst., and the City of Washington on the 8th inst.

The Atlantic brings one week's later advices from India. Gen. Havelock was still hemmed in at Lucknow. Sir Colin Campbell and his staff had started for Cawnpore. Troops were also moving rapidly for the relief of Lucknow. More troops had arrived out.

The Atlantic left Liverpool at half-past two o'clock on the afternoon of Wednesday, the 9th inst. Gold was flowing to the Bank of England, in large quantities. The city of Glasgow Bank showed a large surplus, and will resume business.

The depression continues at Hamburg, but it has been resolved to establish a discount Bank with a capital of fifteen millions, marks immediately.

There have been numerous additional failures, but it was thought that the turning point had been reached. Both Houses of Parliament have voted £1,000,000 to Gen. Havelock. The Bank of England Indemnity Bill has been ordered to a third reading in the House of Commons. Parliament will probably be adjourned in a few days to the usual time of meeting.

A Singular Case.
NEW HAVEN, Dec. 19.
Last winter, a boy named Charles E. Sage, about 19 years of age, was missing from his home in Cromwell, near Middletown, in this State, and an Irishman named Patrick Nugent was arrested on the charge of his murder and putting the body under the ice in the Connecticut river.

In a few months afterwards a body was found in the river, without a head. This body was believed to be that of the missing boy, from several marks upon it, as well as from a portion of the clothing. Soon afterwards, the finding of an overcoat was found, answering to the description of that worn by the missing person. Some months after, a sailor named Benson directly charged Nugent, the Irishman, with the murder. He said he saw the deed done, and assisted Nugent in putting the corpse under a hay-mow. He described accurately the lad's appearance, his dress, the color of his hair, and declared that he had not had any peace of mind since the murder, and that he had come to Cromwell expressly to divulge all he knew about it.

He confronted Nugent, and charged the deed upon him. The accused denied it, but shook from head to foot. A true bill was found against Nugent, and he was to be tried this month. Within a few days, however, the missing boy has been discovered in the interior of Pennsylvania by his uncle. A special court was immediately held, and Nugent was liberated.

Herndon, the sailor, has been arrested for perjury, with intent to take life. He acknowledged his guilt of the crime which will send him to the State Prison for life.

Washington Items.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.
This morning the body of General Newland was found floating in the Chesapeake and Ohio canal near this city. The deceased was formerly a prominent politician of North Carolina, and lately superintendent engineer of the Harbor Improvements at Sheboygan, Wisconsin. His death was evidently accidental.

Interest is manifested in this city concerning Donnelly, who was lately convicted in New Jersey for murder at the Sea View House, for which he is now under sentence of death. He was favorably known in this country and several petitions, numerously signed, including the names of some of our most prominent citizens and ladies have been transmitted to the Executive of New Jersey for presentation to the Court of Pardons, asking for a commutation of his sentence.

Capture of Slaves.
NEW YORK, Dec. 21.
The bark W. G. Lewis, which had been captured as a slave at Congo river, by the sloop of war Dale, has arrived here. A brig to the windward was supposed to have been captured as a slave, and is expected here in a few days.

The British steamer Eleazar, had signaled the bark Clara B. Williams and an American schooner. Many slaves were reported on the African coast. Twelve had been captured since the Dale had arrived there.

Later from California.—Gen. Walker turned up.
The San Francisco Empire City, which connects with the Star of the West at Havana, is ashore at the Belize, but will probably get off to night.

The Star of the West takes forward to New York $2,500,000 in specie. The news from California is unimportant. The public are much excited as to the unavailability of the Pacific mail steamers.

Gen. Walker landed at Punta Arenas on the 25th of November, with one hundred and fifty men, and was entirely unmolested. The steamer Fashion passed under the stern of the United States frigate Saratoga at full speed, with only ten men visible on her decks. She landed the whole party at Scott's Wharf.

Walker sent fifty men up the river by different entrances. The steamer Fashion arrived at Aspinwall, and was coaling when the Star of the West sailed. Commodore Paulding attempted to seize her but upon an examination of her papers they were found to be correct. The British and American forces stationed at Aspinwall had sailed for San Juan.

It was supposed that the difficulties between Costa Rica and Nicaragua will be settled without resort to arms.

Uses of the Potato.
In France the farin is largely used for culinary purposes. The famed gravies, sauces and soups of France are largely indebted for their excellence to that source, and its bread and paste equally so; while a great deal of the so-called Cognac imported into England from France is the produce of the Potato. Throughout Germany the same uses are common, and in Poland the manufacture of spirits from the Potato is a most extensive trade. "Stetten Brandy," well known in commerce, is largely imported into England, and is sent from thence to many of our foreign possessions as the produce of the Grape, and is placed on many a table of England as the same; while the fair-ladies of our general country perfume themselves with the spirit of Potato under the designation Eau de Cologne. But there are other uses which this excellent is turned to abroad. After extracting the farina, the pulp is manufactured into ornamental articles, such as picture frames, snuff-boxes and several descriptions of toys; and the water that runs from it in the process of manufacture is a most valuable scourer. For perfectly cleansing woollens and such like articles, it is the housewife's panacea; and if the washwoman happens to have chilblains she becomes cured by the operation. Paper read before the British Association.

A Singular Case.
NEW HAVEN, Dec. 19.
Last winter, a boy named Charles E. Sage, about 19 years of age, was missing from his home in Cromwell, near Middletown, in this State, and an Irishman named Patrick Nugent was arrested on the charge of his murder and putting the body under the ice in the Connecticut river.

In a few months afterwards a body was found in the river, without a head. This body was believed to be that of the missing boy, from several marks upon it, as well as from a portion of the clothing. Soon afterwards, the finding of an overcoat was found, answering to the description of that worn by the missing person. Some months after, a sailor named Benson directly charged Nugent, the Irishman, with the murder. He said he saw the deed done, and assisted Nugent in putting the corpse under a hay-mow. He described accurately the lad's appearance, his dress, the color of his hair, and declared that he had not had any peace of mind since the murder, and that he had come to Cromwell expressly to divulge all he knew about it.

He confronted Nugent, and charged the deed upon him. The accused denied it, but shook from head to foot. A true bill was found against Nugent, and he was to be tried this month. Within a few days, however, the missing boy has been discovered in the interior of Pennsylvania by his uncle. A special court was immediately held, and Nugent was liberated.

Herndon, the sailor, has been arrested for perjury, with intent to take life. He acknowledged his guilt of the crime which will send him to the State Prison for life.

Washington Items.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.
This morning the body of General Newland was found floating in the Chesapeake and Ohio canal near this city. The deceased was formerly a prominent politician of North Carolina, and lately superintendent engineer of the Harbor Improvements at Sheboygan, Wisconsin. His death was evidently accidental.

Interest is manifested in this city concerning Donnelly, who was lately convicted in New Jersey for murder at the Sea View House, for which he is now under sentence of death. He was favorably known in this country and several petitions, numerously signed, including the names of some of our most prominent citizens and ladies have been transmitted to the Executive of New Jersey for presentation to the Court of Pardons, asking for a commutation of his sentence.

Capture of Slaves.
NEW YORK, Dec. 21.
The bark W. G. Lewis, which had been captured as a slave at Congo river, by the sloop of war Dale, has arrived here. A brig to the windward was supposed to have been captured as a slave, and is expected here in a few days.

The British steamer Eleazar, had signaled the bark Clara B. Williams and an American schooner. Many slaves were reported on the African coast. Twelve had been captured since the Dale had arrived there.

Later from California.—Gen. Walker turned up.
The San Francisco Empire City, which connects with the Star of the West at Havana, is ashore at the Belize, but will probably get off to night.

The Star of the West takes forward to New York $2,500,000 in specie. The news from California is unimportant. The public are much excited as to the unavailability of the Pacific mail steamers.

Gen. Walker landed at Punta Arenas on the 25th of November, with one hundred and fifty men, and was entirely unmolested. The steamer Fashion passed under the stern of the United States frigate Saratoga at full speed, with only ten men visible on her decks. She landed the whole party at Scott's Wharf.

Walker sent fifty men up the river by different entrances. The steamer Fashion arrived at Aspinwall, and was coaling when the Star of the West sailed. Commodore Paulding attempted to seize her but upon an examination of her papers they were found to be correct. The British and American forces stationed at Aspinwall had sailed for San Juan.

It was supposed that the difficulties between Costa Rica and Nicaragua will be settled without resort to arms.

Uses of the Potato.
In France the farin is largely used for culinary purposes. The famed gravies, sauces and soups of France are largely indebted for their excellence to that source, and its bread and paste equally so; while a great deal of the so-called Cognac imported into England from France is the produce of the Potato. Throughout Germany the same uses are common, and in Poland the manufacture of spirits from the Potato is a most extensive trade. "Stetten Brandy," well known in commerce, is largely imported into England, and is sent from thence to many of our foreign possessions as the produce of the Grape, and is placed on many a table of England as the same; while the fair-ladies of our general country perfume themselves with the spirit of Potato under the designation Eau de Cologne. But there are other uses which this excellent is turned to abroad. After extracting the farina, the pulp is manufactured into ornamental articles, such as picture frames, snuff-boxes and several descriptions of toys; and the water that runs from it in the process of manufacture is a most valuable scourer. For perfectly cleansing woollens and such like articles, it is the housewife's panacea; and if the washwoman happens to have chilblains she becomes cured by the operation. Paper read before the British Association.

A Singular Case.
NEW HAVEN, Dec. 19.
Last winter, a boy named Charles E. Sage, about 19 years of age, was missing from his home in Cromwell, near Middletown, in this State, and an Irishman named Patrick Nugent was arrested on the charge of his murder and putting the body under the ice in the Connecticut river.

In a few months afterwards a body was found in the river, without a head. This body was believed to be that of the missing boy, from several marks upon it, as well as from a portion of the clothing. Soon afterwards, the finding of an overcoat was found, answering to the description of that worn by the missing person. Some months after, a sailor named Benson directly charged Nugent, the Irishman, with the murder. He said he saw the deed done, and assisted Nugent in putting the corpse under a hay-mow. He described accurately the lad's appearance, his dress, the color of his hair, and declared that he had not had any peace of mind since the murder, and that he had come to Cromwell expressly to divulge all he knew about it.

He confronted Nugent, and charged the deed upon him. The accused denied it, but shook from head to foot. A true bill was found against Nugent, and he was to be tried this month. Within a few days, however, the missing boy has been discovered in the interior of Pennsylvania by his uncle. A special court was immediately held, and Nugent was liberated.

Herndon, the sailor, has been arrested for perjury, with intent to take life. He acknowledged his guilt of the crime which will send him to the State Prison for life.

Washington Items.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.
This morning the body of General Newland was found floating in the Chesapeake and Ohio canal near this city. The deceased was formerly a prominent politician of North Carolina, and lately superintendent engineer of the Harbor Improvements at Sheboygan, Wisconsin. His death was evidently accidental.

Interest is manifested in this city concerning Donnelly, who was lately convicted in New Jersey for murder at the Sea View House, for which he is now under sentence of death. He was favorably known in this country and several petitions, numerously signed, including the names of some of our most prominent citizens and ladies have been transmitted to the Executive of New Jersey for presentation to the Court of Pardons, asking for a commutation of his sentence.

Capture of Slaves.
NEW YORK, Dec. 21.
The bark W. G. Lewis, which had been captured as a slave at Congo river, by the sloop of war Dale, has arrived here. A brig to the windward was supposed to have been captured as a slave, and is expected here in a few days.

The British steamer Eleazar, had signaled the bark Clara B. Williams and an American schooner. Many slaves were reported on the African coast. Twelve had been captured since the Dale had arrived there.

Later from California.—Gen. Walker turned up.
The San Francisco Empire City, which connects with the Star of the West at Havana, is ashore at the Belize, but will probably get off to night.

The Star of the West takes forward to New York $2,500,000 in specie. The news from California is unimportant. The public are much excited as to the unavailability of the Pacific mail steamers.

Gen. Walker landed at Punta Arenas on the 25th of November, with one hundred and fifty men, and was entirely unmolested. The steamer Fashion passed under the stern of the United States frigate Saratoga at full speed, with only ten men visible on her decks. She landed the whole party at Scott's Wharf.

Walker sent fifty men up the river by different entrances. The steamer Fashion arrived at Aspinwall, and was coaling when the Star of the West sailed. Commodore Paulding attempted to seize her but upon an examination of her papers they were found to be correct. The British and American forces stationed at Aspinwall had sailed for San Juan.

It was supposed that the difficulties between Costa Rica and Nicaragua will be settled without resort to arms.

Uses of the Potato.
In France the farin is largely used for culinary purposes. The famed gravies, sauces and soups of France are largely indebted for their excellence to that source, and its bread and paste equally so; while a great deal of the so-called Cognac imported into England from France is the produce of the Potato. Throughout Germany the same uses are common, and in Poland the manufacture of spirits from the Potato is a most extensive trade. "Stetten Brandy," well known in commerce, is largely imported into England, and is sent from thence to many of our foreign possessions as the produce of the Grape, and is placed on many a table of England as the same; while the fair-ladies of our general country perfume themselves with the spirit of Potato under the designation Eau de Cologne. But there are other uses which this excellent is turned to abroad. After extracting the farina, the pulp is manufactured into ornamental articles, such as picture frames, snuff-boxes and several descriptions of toys; and the water that runs from it in the process of manufacture is a most valuable scourer. For perfectly cleansing woollens and such like articles, it is the housewife's panacea; and if the washwoman happens to have chilblains she becomes cured by the operation. Paper read before the British Association.

A Singular Case.
NEW HAVEN, Dec. 19.
Last winter, a boy named Charles E. Sage, about 19 years of age, was missing from his home in Cromwell, near Middletown, in this State, and an Irishman named Patrick Nugent was arrested on the charge of his murder and putting the body under the ice in the Connecticut river.

In a few months afterwards a body was found in the river, without a head. This body was believed to be that of the missing boy, from several marks upon it, as well as from a portion of the clothing. Soon afterwards, the finding of an overcoat was found, answering to the description of that worn by the missing person. Some months after, a sailor named Benson directly charged Nugent, the Irishman, with the murder. He said he saw the deed done, and assisted Nugent in putting the corpse under a hay-mow. He described accurately the lad's appearance, his dress, the color of his hair, and declared that he had not had any peace of mind since the murder, and that he had come to Cromwell expressly to divulge all he knew about it.

He confronted Nugent, and charged the deed upon him. The accused denied it, but shook from head to foot. A true bill was found against Nugent, and he was to be tried this month. Within a few days, however, the missing boy has been discovered in the interior of Pennsylvania by his uncle. A special court was immediately held, and Nugent was liberated.

Herndon, the sailor, has been arrested for perjury, with intent to take life. He acknowledged his guilt of the crime which will send him to the State Prison for life.

Washington Items.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.
This morning the body of General Newland was found floating in the Chesapeake and Ohio canal near this city. The deceased was formerly a prominent politician of North Carolina, and lately superintendent engineer of the Harbor Improvements at Sheboygan, Wisconsin. His death was evidently accidental.

Interest is manifested in this city concerning Donnelly, who was lately convicted in New Jersey for murder at the Sea View House, for which he is now under sentence of death. He was favorably known in this country and several petitions, numerously signed, including the names of some of our most prominent citizens and ladies have been transmitted to the Executive of New Jersey for presentation to the Court of Pardons, asking for a commutation of his sentence.

Capture of Slaves.
NEW YORK, Dec. 21.
The bark W. G. Lewis, which had been captured as a slave at Congo river, by the sloop of war Dale, has arrived here. A brig to the windward was supposed to have been captured as a slave, and is expected here in a few days.

The British steamer Eleazar, had signaled the bark Clara B. Williams and an American schooner. Many slaves were reported on the African coast. Twelve had been captured since the Dale had arrived there.

Ohio State and Union Law College.
This Institution has been removed to Cleveland, Ohio. Duplicates are highly endorsed, and students upon Graduating may be admitted into practice. For Circulars address, at Cleveland, M. A. KING, Secretary.

ADVERTISING HOUSE OFFERS.
1st. To Western and Southern Advertisers the leading Daily and other Newspapers in all the large Eastern Cities—Boston, New York, Philadelphia, &c., at the Publisher's lowest cost price.
2d. To all Publishers' Orders for Printing Materials of every description—Presses, Type, Galleys, &c.—at manufacturers' Prices.
3d. To collect and adjust Publishers' Bills in the above mentioned cities, on reasonable terms. Will forward orders of this Paper, when so directed by the Proprietor of this Paper, to the Proprietor of the Paper.

New Advertisements.
GENERAL COLLECTING AGENTS.
McCahan and Markle.
H. McCahan and J. Markle, are now engaged in doing a general collecting business. Persons who are proper to entrust to them, promptly and satisfactorily. All money collected will be promptly paid over. Will forward orders of this Paper, when so directed by the Proprietor of this Paper, to the Proprietor of the Paper.

HOMES FOR THE MILLION.
REAL ESTATE AGENCY.
A chance to Dispose of Lands and Real Estate in General.
THE undersigned has established a Real Estate Agency in
FINDLAY, OHIO,
and will attend to the purchase and sale of all kinds of Real Estate, such as Farms, Town Lots, Houses, &c., and to the redemption of delinquent lands, and to the payment of Taxes. All such property entrusted to him as agent, will be sold at the lowest price consistent with the interests of the owner. Nov. 25, 1857. S. A. SPEAR.

HOUSE AND LOTS FOR SALE.
A VALUABLE House and two Lots, favorably situated on Sandusky street, Findlay, Ohio, are offered for sale. The House is new, conveniently constructed, and pleasantly located. There are two lots connected with this property, and one or both will be sold with the building, as may be desired. S. A. SPEAR, Real Estate Agent. Findlay, O., December 11, 1857.

An out-Lot for sale!</